Topic - POVERTY AND DEVELOPMENT: A majority of the world's population lives in developing countries, on less than $2 a day. This course will use microeconomic tools to gain a better understanding of the lives of the world's poor and of the challenges faced in the process of economic development. We will explore topics such as education, healthcare and microfinance, as well as investigate the functioning of labor markets, credit markets and government institutions. We will also cover methods to evaluate the effectiveness of policy interventions, using applications from developing countries around the world.

Ethical dilemmas in the practice of health care continue to proliferate and receive increasing attention from members of the health care profession, ethicists, policy makers, and the general public as health care consumers. In this course we will examine a number of ethical issues that arise in the context of contemporary medical practice and research by analyzing articles and decision scenarios. Topics to be covered typically include the physician-patient relationship; informed consent; medical experimentation; termination of treatment; genetics; reproductive technologies; euthanasia; resource allocation; and health care reform. Students who successfully complete this course will be able to identify and analyze different philosophical approaches to selected issues in medical ethics; have gained insight into how to read and critically interpret philosophical arguments; and have developed skills that will enable them to think clearly about ethical questions as future or current health care providers, policy makers, and consumers. This course is part of a core sequence leading to certification in the Conceptual Foundations of Medicine Certificate Program, and is a companion course to HPS 0612 (Mind and Medicine) but may be taken independently. The course is of particular interest to pre-medical and pre-health care students.

This course introduces the fundamental principles of geo-spatial analysis using ArcGIS Desktop and Microsoft Excel. It will focus on teaching students the principles of GIS through computer-based exercises and an individual project. Exercises will train students in acquiring and downloading data and imagery, analyzing, mapping and managing geospatial data in order to address predominately urban problems. An emphasis will be placed on bridging the gap between performing geo-spatial analyzes using GIS and designing cartographically correct and understandable outputs. Exercises and projects will be centered on topics and applications relevant to urban studies, political science, sociology and economics.
