

Graduate Student Pre-Dissertation and Conference Participation Grants for China, Japan, or Korea Studies

PRE-DISSERTATION GRANT:

This grant provides partial support for travel related to pre-dissertation research in and about China, Japan, or Korea. Priority is given to first-time applicants who are in their early stage of dissertation research. The maximum amount is $600 for international travel and $300 for domestic travel.

Application procedure:

Application materials should ALL be submitted online to Elizabeth Greene at egreene@pitt.edu and should include:

*A proposal to the China, Japan, or Korea Council, addressing the topic of research, specific goals of the trip, pre-trip preparation, and other evidence justifying the trip. Please tell us if you have received this award before.

* A brief letter of support from the applicant's main academic advisor. Please remind your faculty advisor to submit the recommendation on-line to: egreene@pitt.edu

*A detailed budget listing costs of travel, lodging, meals, supplies, and incidentals (such as museum fees if applicable, or the like).

Deadlines:

For China and Korea Studies: OCTOBER 30 and JANUARY 31

For Japan Studies: Rolling deadline

GRADUATE STUDENT CONFERENCE PARTICIPATION GRANT:

This grant provides partial support for graduate students to travel to a professional conference and present a paper. Priority is given to first time applicants. The maximum amount is $600 for international travel and $300 for domestic travel. Applications should be submitted BEFORE the conference takes place.

Application materials should ALL be submitted online to Elizabeth Greene at egreene@ucis.pitt.edu and should include:

* A cover letter that briefly explains (a) the name of the conference you will attend, (b) paper title, panel title, and a brief abstract of the paper, (c) evidence of conference paper acceptance (if this is not available on-line, please give Elizabeth Greene a photocopy) .

* A brief letter of support from the applicant's main academic advisor. Please remind your faculty advisor to submit the recommendation on-line to: egreene@pitt.edu.

*A detailed budget listing costs of travel, lodging, meals, conference registration, and incidentals (photocopying your paper, postage, and the like).

Deadlines:

For China and Korea Studies: OCTOBER 30, JANUARY 31, and APRIL 1

For Japan Studies: Rolling deadline