

OLYMPIC SYMPOSIUM

The Olympic Games Rio de Janeiro 2016

Social, economic and cultural impact on Brazil

Saturday, April 9, 2016 | 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

3911 Posvar Hall, University of Pittsburgh Campus

The Center for Latin American Studies at the University of Pittsburgh in collaboration with West Virginia University will organize a one-day symposium on the Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro 2016.

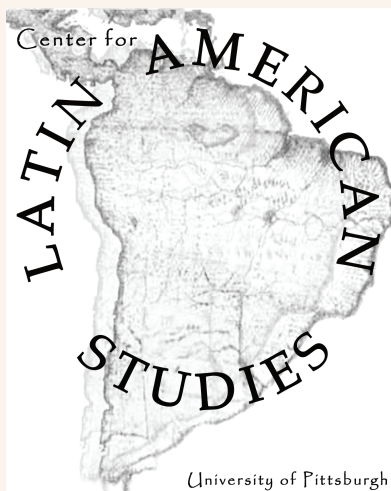

The impact and perceived importance of the Olympic Games extends to local and international sport fans and sport governing bodies directly involved in the games. Additionally, the games' influence reaches a multitude of stakeholders including local and international media, corporate interests and local, state and national levels of government.

Registration to the Olympic Symposium is free. Complimentary breakfast and lunch will be served to those who register by April 6, 2016.

Register online at: www.clasconference.org/olympics/register

For more information: bravo@pitt.edu

Visit Panoramas at: www.panoramas.pitt.edu

Presented by University of Pittsburgh

The Center for Latin American Studies (CLAS)

in collaboration with West Virginia University

 West Virginia University
COLLEGE OF PHYSICAL ACTIVITY
AND SPORT SCIENCES