12th Annual Graduate Student Conference on the EU
March 17-18, 2017
University of Pittsburgh

Toward a New EU

Venue:
Pittsburgh Athletic Association (PAA)
4215 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, PA 15213

Friday, March 17

11:30 am  Registration  PAA 2nd Floor

12:30-2:00 pm  Panel 1: EU Institutions  Library, PAA

  Chair and discussant: Prof. Carolyn Ban, GSPIA

  Ryuya Daidouji, Waseda University, “The EU in inter-organizational relations: From ‘inward-looking’ toward ‘intersecting’ legitimation”

  Asli Baysal, University of Florida, “The Evolution of the Executive in the European Union: From a Bureaucratic to a Political Executive”

2:15-3:45  Panel 2: Migration and Identity in Europe  Library, PAA

  Chair and discussant: Prof. Ettore Recchi, Sciences Po

  Rachel Peters, University of Toronto, “Understanding the Refusal: Does Historic Hungarian Nationalism Affect Hungarian Refugee Policy?”

  Benjamin Globerman, Carleton University, “What Happened? The Europeanization of Asylum Policy in Crisis”

  Hakan Erdagoz, University of Utah, “Muslim Minorities and National Political Community in France and Russia”

3:45-4:00  Coffee break

4:00-5:30  Keynote Address: Matthew Goodwin, University of Kent  Schenley Lounge
“Voting for Brexit and the Radical Right - Examining new data in the United Kingdom”

A wine and cheese reception will be held immediately after the talk from 5:30-7:00. A special thanks to our co-sponsors, the European Union Studies Association, for sponsoring this reception.
Saturday, March 18

9:30-10:45 am  Panel 3: The EU as a Global Power
Chair and discussant: Prof. Charles Skinner, GSPIA
Kyle Wolfley, Cornell University, “The Evolution of European and Central Asian Stability through Joint Military Exercises”
Matthew Shelden, Georgia Tech University, “The Role of NATO in Protecting European Cooperation in the 21st Century”

10:45-11:15  Coffee break

11:15-12:30  Panel 4: European Political Economy
Chair and discussant: Prof. Martin Staniland, GSPIA
Silvia Merler, SAIS, Johns Hopkins University, “Income Convergence in the EU: Arrested Development?”
Grace Ballor, University of California Los Angeles, “Back to the Future: A Historical Analysis of the Private Sector Partnerships at the Core of the EU’s Common Market Success”
Dimitrios Koutsoupakis, London School of Economics, “On the (Central & Commercial) Banking Nature of the First Apolitical/Programmable Money; the Bitcoin Network”

12:30-2:00  BREAK

2:00-3:15  Panel 5: Public Opinion and Democracy in the EU
Chair and discussant: Prof. Jae-Jae Spoon, Political Science
Cory Breaux, University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill, “Domestic Referendums in Europe: Helping or Hurting Democracy?”
Thomas Lehner, University of Salzburg, “Government and Opposition – The effect on the European Parliament”

3:15-3:30  Coffee Break

3:30-5:15  Panel 6: Populism, the Far Right, and the EU
Chair and discussant: Anna Brigevich, North Carolina Central University
Nora Weber, UNC – Chapel Hill, “EU Democracy in the Digital Age: Social Media as a Mobilizing and Institutionalizing Factor for Far-Right Parties”

Lucia Kovacikova, Tulane University, “Brexit: A new chapter in British exceptionalism”

Marta Lorimer, London School of Economics, “Europe from the Far Right Perspective: The Case of the French Front National”