

The European Union Center/The Center for West European Studies
◆ Summer 2001 Calendar of Events ◆

Wednesday, May 9 8:00a.m-3:00p.m David Lawrence Hall
Globalization and the New Migration: Implications for Pennsylvania's Future: Strategies for Embracing Ethnic Diversity in the Classroom

This workshop is a professional development program for social studies and foreign language teachers. The main emphasis will be on the importance of globalization and intercultural communication to the economy of the nation. Panel discussions and "hands-on" sessions will take place.

The program is free and the deadline is April 25

Thursday-Saturday, May 10-12 University Club
Young Leaders Conference

The Council for the United States and Italy join the European Union Center at the University of Pittsburgh in presenting the 17th annual Young Leaders Conference. The focus of the conference is on the Internet revolution.

Wednesday, May 16 8:15 a.m-3:30p.m Penn State University
From Global to Local: Causes and Costs of Ethnic Conflict: Classroom Strategies for Dealing with Ethnic Conflict

This workshop will examine the underlying political, economic, cultural, and social causes of ethnic conflict. Teachers will create classroom projects and activities for specific courses to support the examination of cultural difference and the resolution of ethnic conflict.

Thursday-Sunday, May 31-June 3 Madison, Wisconsin
ECSA Seventh Biennial International Conference

The European Community Studies Association will hold a conference in Wisconsin entitled "Information and Ideas about the European Union."

For more information please visit the website at <http://www.esca.org/2001ProvisionalProgram.html>

Monday-Tuesday, June 25-26 Gold Room, University Club
Policy Conference: International Aspects of e-Government

This event is part of a series of policy conferences co-sponsored by the EUC that focuses on topics of relevance to the EU and US. It is the first in a series of programs that the SIS is planning that addresses the broad question: What is the role of electronic information systems in the relationship between citizens and their elected government?

Approximately 35 practitioner and academic participants from several EU-member states, Canada, and the US are expected to participate in this conference.

This event is organized by the School of Information Sciences (SIS) and the European Union Center (EUC) at the Center for West European Studies.

The main conference sessions are free and open to the public

Monday-Friday, June 25-29 9:00a.m-1:00 p.m 2nd Floor Posvar Hall, 2M-2P

French Immersion Institute

This institute is designed for middle school and high school teachers to broaden their cultural understanding of current events and society in France and Europe while strengthening their French listening and speaking skills.

Cost-$35.00-PSMLA members; $50.00 non-members

Includes immersion workshop, materials, and continental breakfast and lunch

Monday-Friday, June 25-29 2:00p.m-5:00p.m Cathedral of Learning, G-17

Multimedia in Language Teaching

This is a professional development workshop for K-12 world language teachers.

The workshop will offer teachers the opportunity to create digital audio graphics and video files, edit the materials, and then incorporate them effectively into their teaching.

If interested please contact Rosalind Eannarino at 648-7397.

For more information please visit the website at

<http://www.llrc.pitt.edu/llab/events/ucispmlajune01/flver.html>

Thursday, July 5 7:30 p.m Carnegie Museum of Art

Cinema of Light film series

“Caravaggio”

By Derek Jarmon, 1986

Jarmon presents a biographically accurate tale of the late 17th century artist Caravaggio.

Admission is free with a Pitt student or faculty ID.

Film will also be shown on Friday, July 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, July 26 7:30 p.m Carnegie Museum of Art

Cinema of Light film series

“Mifune”

By Soren Kragh-Jacobson

This film features the loss of inhibition among four misfits from an extended family.

Admission is free with a Pitt student or faculty ID.

Film will also be shown on Friday, July 27 at 7:30 p.m.

For information regarding events call 648-7405 or e-mail eu-sec@ucis.pitt.edu

*University of Pittsburgh
University Center for International Studies*