Introductory Workshop

Engaging Students in International Issues: The Choices Approach

Saturday, February 6, 2016

8:30 am-3:30 pm

University of Pittsburgh Center for International Studies
Pittsburgh, PA

Cost: $145 per person. First 15 people to register receive discounted rate of $95. Price includes two units ($78 value), lunch, 7-hour certificate of attendance, and all workshop materials. A limited number of scholarships are available for pre-service teachers.

Who Should Attend: History, civics, geography, government and other social studies teachers, as well as Humanities teachers, are the target audience. Materials are appropriate for grades 7-12.

During the workshop, you will:

- Be introduced to the Choices Program's award-winning resources and approach to teaching about contested international issues;
- Examine and work with the Choices units China on the World Stage: Weighing the U.S. Response and The Limits of Power: The United States in Vietnam (provided);
- Network with exemplar colleagues in social studies education from across the state.

This is a participatory workshop, so come ready to be engaged and inspired!

Co-sponsored by: University of Pittsburgh's National Consortium for Teaching About Asia Site and the Global Studies Center, University Center of International Studies, University of Pittsburgh.
