

Pittsburgh Asia Consortium's
Eighth Annual Undergraduate Research Conference

Please join us for the 8th annual Undergraduate Research Conference, hosted by the Pittsburgh Asia Consortium. This interdisciplinary event will be held virtually this year! Please join us on Zoom for the student papers described below.

Wednesday, April 7,
2021

5 p.m. EDT

Register here:

<https://tinyurl.com/pac-ugrc1>

Tolerance and Hatred in Asian Contexts

The Yasukuni Controversy: History Overtaking Tradition

Amanda Marcus, Indiana University of Pennsylvania

The Geography of Hatred: Antisemitism of the West and Tolerance in the East

Marissa Herzig, University of Pittsburgh

Oppression and Liberation Through Fire

Hiba Hassan, SUNY Buffalo

Wednesday, April 8,
2021

5 p.m. EDT

Register here:

<https://tinyurl.com/pac-ugrc2>

People-Centered International Relations in Asia

Telling the China Story: Roots of Tianxia Discourse in River Elegy

Esther Lui, University of Pittsburgh

Blood Isn't Everything: Transnational Adoption's Effects on Identity Formation, Racial Identification, and Kinship

Hannah Ku, University of Pittsburgh

North Korea's Nuclear Program: Return to Strategic Patience?

Khala Vines, Indiana University of Pennsylvania

ASIAN STUDIES CENTER

For further information, please contact Dr. Emily Rook-Koepsel at rookkoepsel@pitt.edu.

This conference was sponsored by the Indiana University of Pennsylvania Asian Studies Program, the Washington & Jefferson University East Asian Studies Program, and the Asian Studies Center at the University of Pittsburgh.