Early last month, the United Nation's much hyped Climate Conference convened representatives from around the globe. In this session, our panel of experts will discuss what happened in Glasgow, European leaders' reactions to the conference outcomes, and what role Europe is taking in international efforts to respond to climate change and climate-driven migration.

Panelists:
- Patrick Bayer, University of Strathclyde
- Shanti Gamper-Rabindran, University of Pittsburgh
- Katharine Rietig, Newcastle University
- Rosemary McCarney, University of Toronto

Moderated by: Jae-Jae Spoon, University of Pittsburgh

Tuesday, December 7
